

2016 Annual Report

Proud to be Supported by:

April 2017

Community Family Resource Centers, Inc. (CFRC) has had another exciting year. Area families are continuing to participate in CFRC's quality family programs. Looking back at 2016, overall attendance was at an all-time high! Close to 450 area families (1,396 participants) took part in CFRC's programs and events.

Participation in the Parent And Child Enrichment (PACE) Program continues to stay constant with close to 70 families attending to foster parent and child interaction, and focus on child social skills and learning. Summer PACE had 110 participants taking part in the six-week program held at local parks.

In 2016, CFRC continued to offer more multi-week family education seminars. Attendance was steady for family education with more than 440 participants. The Nutrition & Fitness Family Fun Nights – at which families learn fun and easy ways to be active, and sample healthy snacks – continued to have great success with more than 190 attendees at the January event in Seymour, and more than 110 participants at the Black Creek event in February. The annual Nutrition & Fitness Family Fun Nights are a collaboration with the school district health office, physical education teachers and other school staff, and are part of the Fuel Up to Play60 Program. Other family education topics in 2016 included: Love & Logic –parents learned how to handle misbehavior, teach kids to listen, avoid power struggles, and set limits; Internet Safety – parents learned the dangers of social media and tips to keep children safe; Get Ready for 4K – parents learned ways to prepare children for 4K; What Bullying Really Means – families learned tips for dealing with bullying; Oneida Family Reading Night – held in Oneida as a collaboration with Oneida libraries; and the Black Creek Babysitting Clinic – an expert from FVTC provided guidance to babysitters on the basics of caring for children. The majority of CFRC's family education events are free.

CFRC continued to offer the Young Parent's Discussion Group geared to parents in their teens and early 20s. The Discussion Group helps young parents develop support networks with area young parents and adult role models, provides information on community resources to help fulfill their educational and employment goals to achieve economic stability, and helps them improve parenting skills. Experts speak on pertinent issues – 2016 topics included: exercising with children, making homemade baby food, financial planning, toilet training, hearing from real-life survivors, setting personal goals, and healthy relationships. In September, the Caring Closet filled with baby and child supplies was introduced. Young parents earn points to shop in the Closet by setting and achieving personal goals along with attending the Young Parent's Discussion Group.

Attendance at Me & My Family events, designed to promote individual time with children and a specific family member, grew in 2016 with close to 400 people participating. The most well-attended event continued to be the Me & My Family Night at Funset Boulevard with close to 200 wristbands sold. In November, CFRC held the 1st Annual Father/Daughter Dance, which was a huge success with close to 170 girls and their dads and grandpas attending. A similar event will be held in spring 2018. The majority of the Me & My Family events are offered locally, showcasing some of the great, low-cost entertainment in the area.

As the first quarter of 2017 comes to an end, CFRC is off to an amazing start! For the second year, CFRC is receiving more funding from United Way Fox Cities, which will be used to help grow our organization.

This February, CFRC's 16th Annual Winterfest Carnival was a huge success, raising more than $9,000 – a record! We accomplished this with the help of 80 enthusiastic, self-motivated, and dependable volunteers.

Thank you for the support from local businesses and community organizations through program collaborations, monetary and in-kind donations. Because of you, CFRC is able to continue offering quality family programs and events.

Also, thank you to the families who participated in CFRC's programs this past year. CFRC programs and events are open to all area residents, and scholarships are available.

And, thank you our committed volunteers, especially our Board of Directors. CFRC would not be the organization it is today without your involvement and dedication. Thank you for helping CFRC fulfill our mission of "Strengthening families to strengthen the community."

Sincerely,

Corinn Sevcik, Executive Director

The Parent And Child Enrichment (PACE) Program is designed for families with children ages birth to five years-old to foster parent and child interaction in a fun, structured environment. PACE focuses on child social skills and learning, parent education and fun through activities including play time, circle-time, art projects, story time and snack. PACE is offered during the day and in the evening both in Seymour and Black Creek.

The Young Parent's Discussion Group was established to help area teen and young parents, ages 13-25, form support networks with other young parents and adult role models, fulfill their educational and employment goals to achieve economic stability, and improve their parenting skills. Discussion topics range from appropriate discipline and preparing for the future to fun art projects. The Discussion Group features the Caring Closet filled with baby clothing and supplies from which parents can shop. The Young Parent's Discussion Group is a collaboration of CFRC, the Seymour Alternative High School and the Seymour Community School District Health Office.

Family Education. During the school year, CFRC provides monthly opportunities for families to learn more on pertinent topics. Presenters come from various fields of expertise to provide parents/guardians with information on topics like being active with your kids, discipline, talking about serious issues, and financial management.

The Me & My Family program is designed to promote each parent or family member to spend time individually with their children. Programs are offered for moms and kids (Me & My Mom), dads and kids (Me & My Dad), and grandparents and kids (Me & My Grandparent). And, some events are designed for the entire family to attend. The events typically take place in Seymour and Black Creek, showcasing some of the great, low cost entertainment in the area.
